Regulations

1. The total number of credits required for graduation is 128, including 28 university-required credits, 9 college-required credits, 57 department-required credits, and 34 professional elective credits.
2. Students in their first to third years may take 16–25 credits per semester, while fourth-year students may take 9–25 credits. Detailed regulations are governed by the University Academic Regulations.
3. In accordance with the University's implementation guidelines for Chinese proficiency, English proficiency, information technology competency, and physical fitness, students must pass all required assessments to be eligible for graduation.
4. Students must meet the standards specified in the Department's "Implementation Guidelines for Professional Competency Assessment" to be eligible for graduation.
5. Students of the Department who have passed the Information Competency Assessment in accordance with the University's Implementation Guidelines for Student Information Competency Evaluation, and have obtained the corresponding information competency certification, shall have such certification recognized by the Department as a foundational professional certification in workplace information application skills.
6. To encourage diversified language learning, the Department offers four second foreign language options: Japanese, Korean, German, and Vietnamese. Prior to graduation, students enrolled in the four-year daytime undergraduate program of the Department are required to complete and pass Levels I through IV of one second foreign language course (excluding English). (Note: Students who possess relevant language proficiency certifications may apply for course exemption subject to assessment and approval by the respective language instructor. Students granted exemption from the second foreign language courses shall complete alternative elective courses offered by the Department to fulfill the required credits.)
7. Students may take courses offered by other departments that are not available in this department. Upon departmental approval, up to 20 credits (including interdisciplinary program credits) may be counted toward professional elective credits. Students may also take courses at other universities, limited to one course. Credits earned will be included in the calculation of external elective credits. Inter-institutional enrollment shall follow the University's "Implementation Guidelines for Inter-Institutional Course Selection."
8. Students participating in the Ministry of National Defense Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) who have completed required training and obtained certification may apply for exemption from internship courses, up to a maximum of 10 credits. Students applying for a full-semester internship exemption must complete registration and enroll in at least one course during that semester.
9. For internship courses, each credit shall correspond to a maximum of 80 internship hours.
